PRESS RELEASE

Sponsorship Boost for Table Tennis

Watford Table Tennis League today announces Watford accountants and business advisers Baker Tilly as sponsor of its 2010 League Closed Championships. The company is supporting the championships with £500 in sponsorship which will go towards staging the tournament and providing equipment as well prizes.

The Closed Championships, featuring senior, junior, veteran and restricted events will be held at the Queens' School specialist sports and science college in Aldenham Road, Bushey in April. The event is expected to attract more than 75 competitors.

Mark Wilson, partner at Baker Tilly's Watford office, said: "I am delighted that we can work in partnership with the Watford League to support them in this way. Sport is an essential part of our local community and it's vital it continues to get the recognition and assistance it deserves, particularly with such a focus now on London 2012."

League chairman Stuart Seaholme said: "Baker Tilly's sponsorship is a great boost to our tournament, supporting players of all ages and abilities. We're very much looking forward to working with the company to help promote table tennis in Watford and to encourage many more people to play this exciting and fast-paced sport."
